Managed Print: What Is It, and How Can My School Benefit

Is your school struggling with how to produce more educated students in an environment of tightening budgets? The need to do more with less has never been more important than it is now in this climate of increasing standards and shrinking resources. If your educational organization is looking to save money then you need to investigate how managed print services can help.

-  Cut print spending and contain costs
-  Capture copying/printing costs and volumes assisting with future planning and budgeting—one school RK Dixon assisted no longer needs to purchase paper for the 2011-2012 school year!
-  Save time—manage entire print fleet
-  Reduce print volume

Registration is limited. RSVP today!
